> Mr. Baber maintains that he read this decision to Assistant Secretary Bussey just before he left the city and that the latter fully approved it.

WEDNESDAY, October 5, 1992...... 33,711 GEN. BUSSEY NOT READY TO TALK. Gen. Bussey, the assistant secretary, was at the department this morning after an absence SATURDAY, October 8, 1892.....39,353 of several days. He did not see the Secretary, as the latter did not come to the depart-ment before taking the train for New York. ...207,345 4 Gen. Bussey has not seen the Secretary since the dismissal of Mr. Baber and therefore knows nothing about it except what he has seen in the papers. He said to a STAR reporter this morning that he did not care to discuss the matter until after he had had a talk with the Secretary. Mr. Baber called on Gen. Bussey this morning and had quite a lengthy conference with him. Mr. Baber told a STAR reporter that Gen. Bussey had said that he had authorized the decision before he left the city. It is the opinion of Mr. Baber that the action of the Secretary in dismissing him Subscribed and sworn to before me this tenth was based entirely on the decision. On the other hand, however, it is stated that when Mr. Baber was questioned by the Secretary in regard to the decision, that he made some replies which the Secretary regarded as insolent. The Secretary regarded as insolent. The Secretary resented this behavior and it is reported that the interview, although brief, was somewhat stormy. At any rate the Secretary expressed indignation over the law of the streets in the vicinity were thronged with regiments of pupils, each detachment in its as was based entirely on the decision. On the other hand, however, it is stated that when Mr.

MR. BABER A "PROTECTIONIST DEMOCRAT." In the discussion of Mr. Baber's case the opinion was expressed in some quarters today that the decision was an attempt to Burchardize the administration; that Mr. Baber is a demoto his desk until after the elections. Gen.
Spaulding will be acting secretary in his as in favor of the republican candidates.
On this account it is thought that the partisan language in the decision was the out-come of the zeal which is sometimes shown by a new convert. Mr. Baber, however, says that he is still a democrat, as he has always been, but that he now differs gram from Admiral Walker today announcing from his party on the tariff and is, as he de scribes it, a protectionist democrat. He says that if he votes next month he will cast his bal lot for Harrison and Reid.

It is claimed by Mr. Baber that Gen. Bussey geon General Wyman inspected the quarantine station at Fort Monroe yesterday and had a signed the decision in manuscript form after he had read it to him just before Gen. Bussey left the city instead of having a typewritten copy made, as is usually done with pension decisions. The manuscript was sent at once to the printer. When the proofs were returned Mr. Baber destroyed the manuscript, so that there is no original of this printed decision. TO WRITE A STATEMENT.

Gen. Bussey intends to write a letter to Sec 8 was $975,025. The issue during the corresponding period of last year amounted to $899,692. The shipment of fractional silver coin since the 1st instant aggregates $415,817. retary Noble giving a statement of the facts in the case. He is rather indignant at the statement made that under his decisions pensions are granted to deserters.

He says that there is not a case that can be found where a pension is paid to a deserter. It is true that he had not considered ecretary Noble left this morning for New fork city, having been called there sooner than that the mere entry of a charge of desertion he had expected by the news of the sudden death in Wisconsin of Mr. Cole, whose mother is now with Mrs. Noble in New York. The Secreagainst a soldier in the company rolls was suffi-cient to deprive a claimant of a pensionable status when the further record of the case showed the return of the soldier to the service and his honorable discharge from the service. He considered that if the military authorities tary will attend the exercises connected with the Columbus celebration, and expects to relooked upon a soldier as worthy of honorable discharge, then the mere fact that the record of desertion was against his name showed that tor D. W. Taylor, from duty at the ship yard from the company for reasons which were not incompatible with the later record of honorable

Thompson, from duty at the navy yard, New York, on the 10th instant, and placed upon the retired list from that date. A STATEMENT BY MR. BABER. Mr. Baber said to a STAR reporter today: "This morning Assistant Secretary Busse stated in my presence and in that of Mr. Roe of the Louisville Courier-Journal that I had read the disputed opinion over to him in manuscript; that he had approved it, and had directed the publication of it from my manuscript without awaiting attypewritten copy; and he further admitted that the opinion as printed was in accordance with the manuscript. Mr. Heck, the foreman of the branch printing office, having been called, stated in my presence to Assistant Secretary Bussey that his (Bussey's) name, in his handwriting, was appended to the opinion when the matter was put in type. Gen. Bussey asserted also his official responsibility for the ruling. Thus, you see, the assumptions on which Secretary Noble has based his unprovoked conduct toward me are totally devoid of foundation. The unpleasant remarks which I am alleged to have made to Secretary Noble in our interview Saturday afternoon were uttered in response to his offensive and insulting remarks to me—remarks that were not warranted by aught that I had either done or said. He spoke in anger, without provocation, and I replied in anger, after abundant provocacation. My self-respect required this. As to Secretary Noble's pretense of dismissing me, I have to say that he knows that, as a consequence of our interview, I tendered my resignation to him in person Saturday afternoon. I reaffirm all that I have done in this matter, claiming to have acted a manly part." the Louisville Courier-Journal that I had read coming in from prominent politicians who are keeping up with public sentiment and looking ave been received none has given any reason there is no reason for the republicans to be uneasy about this. Wherever there has been an opportunity to test public sentiment the expectations of the republican managers have expectations of the republican managers have been surpassed.

As it was at the Cooper Union meeting in New York and the McKinley meeting in Boston, the "apathetic public" have shown that where there have been republican rallies that they were not lacking in enthusiasm for Harrison and Reid when called together, and that their seeming indifference is merely an evidence of their contentment with present conditions.

Owing to the condition of Mrs. Harrison's health the President has concluded that it will Mr. Dickinson to chase in that state. The evidences are entirely satisfactory to republicans that the German Lutherans are going to support the republican ticket. Similar reports come from Wisconsin. Letters from Indians are very encouraging. The democratic meetings in the state are not being wall attended and the republicans are in good order and confident. Reports from Massachusetts and New York are extremely gratifyies to Mr. Harrison's friends. The large registration shown on the day of opening the registration books in New York

puff of thick white smoke and heavy boom of cannon old Fort Columbus, on Governor's Island, opened the secular part of the celebration of the four hundredth anniversary of its namesake's greatest deed at 6:05 this morning. The cannon was merely the sunrise gun, but t was singularly appropriate that it should come on this day of all from the fort named after Christopher Columbus. Even the sun which the martial sound welcomed was not an earlier riser than hundreds of boys who march today in honor of the great discoverer. For weeks the lads have been drilling in anticipation of this event and every street not thronged with traffic has been a parade ground for them and resounded with parade ground for them and resonance military orders.

Brilliant sunshine, crisp, cool air and a cloudless sky, in fact every charm of atmosphere which belongs to a perfect October day, helped to make today a grand success. The rain of Saturday night soiled but very few decorations, and those were of the cheaper sort and were promptly and easily replaced. ALONG FIFTH AVENUE.

Fifth avenue is a magnificent ribbon of color, with as many tints and hues flashing in the sunshine as were ever put into the most gorgeous Roman sash. The same is true of Broadway and some of the larger streets run-ning parallel to it, but as the parade of today marches only on 5th avenue the regular bustle and hurly burly of every-day trade somewhat dims their brightness.

In some of the stands along the line of march people began to gather almost at sunrise. In the reservoir stand there was quite a gathering before the big structure was out of the shadow cast by the buildings on the opposite side of 5th avenue. Mothers with tri-colored badges of little flags were seen on the avenue long before they usually have breakfast, all bright faced and eager for the children's big show.

Crowds began to assemble in the neighborhood of the 5th avenue and 59th street entrance to Central Park long before the hour set

Results of more than 250 years of educational work were represented in the parade, for the first school founded by the old Dutch settlers in 1633 in that part of "New Amsterdam" now known as West 77th street is still in existence and is called the School of the Reformed Church. Today New York owns 1,300 public school houses, representing an estimated value in sites and buildings of over $15,000,000, and provides education in its grammar schools for more than 260,000 pupils, boys and Twenty regiments of grammar school boys of New York and Brooklyn and Long Island and Jersey City, each regiment at least 500 strong, marched with swinging step and perfect alignment in the parade today, every boy proudly carrying a flag of his country, prepared to honor and defend it. And this was only one division of the parade.

In the second division came the pupils of the parochial schools, academies and colleges of the Catholio Church in New York and adjacent cities, over 5,000 strong, each pupil also carry-ing the national flag in connection with the em-blems and banners of the churches and acade-mies to which they belong.

In the third division of the procession was medley composed of numerous "institutes." It comprised Hebrew orphan asylums, German, Italian and French institutions of various characters, intermixed with trades schools, business colleges, military institutes and mechanics' soieties, with 1,000 "Young Dalton Volunteers," Altogether it is probable that there were fully 25,000 scholars and students in the procession.

The girl scholars, who were denied participaappropriate and ornamental part in the proceedings. Artistically grouped on a stand in the reservoir square at the junction of 5th avenue and 42d street were nearly 1,700 pretty-faced school girls each wearing a liberty cap and costumed in red, white and blue respectively. The tableaux had been so arranged beforehand that on the approach of the procession almost instantaneously each one of the smiling, bright-faced children so disposed themselves and their costumes as to present the effect of the American shield, with three American flags artistically bunched on each side of it. The fluttering, quivering motions of the admirably arranged bands of colors, as 1,700 sweet girl voices sang "The Star Spangled Banner" and other patriotic songs while their gallant boy fellow students tramped past with quickened step and ringing cheers, must have left a lasting impression of the Columbian school day celebration on the minds of thousands of the rising generation. THE INDIAN BOYS.

But the feature of the parade which, perhap ttracted more attention than any other along the line was the march of, not "Six little Indian boys," but 300 of them from the Carlisle (Pa.) Indian Industrial School, accompanied by their own band of music and partly dressed in Indian costume, partly in uniform of their

TWO CENTS.

HOW GOTHAM IS CROWDED. Not Since the Spring of '89 Have So Many Been in the City.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10,-Not since the thre day celebration of the hundredth anniversary of the inauguration of George United States have there been such vast numbers in New York as at the present time. They have been pouring in from all directions since Saturday and each train and boat is rapidly augmenting the multitude al-ready here. It is a heterogenous gathering, which is supplied by every city, town and ham-let within a radius of a hundred miles, and may come from much more distant points.

Cosmopolitan as New York city is its floating population at the present time is largely composed of people who are rarely seen here except on such occasions as the present. They came here to see the imperial city, and they lost no time in doing so. Their first object was, of course, to secure lodgings. This having been done they started out at core to see the een done they started out at once to see the city, and they saw it thoroughly, judging by crowds to be seen everywhere.

Armed with guide books and asking policemen and citizens for directions, they made their way to all points of general interest.

Yesterday they were seen on the principal thoroughfares viewing the gayly decorated buildings. They attended the church services, crowded into the parks and made their way to all points from the battery to Kingsbridge.

This morning they received and seelling This morning they rose early and sallied forth again in great crowds. They took their way to the stands on line of march at an early hour.

MANY AMUSING INCIDENTS. Yesterday as well as today the crowds fur-ished countless amusing incidents. The elevated trains and surface cars were crowded all day, and all vehicles of transportation commanded premiums. Not only the visitors, but the east and west siders and the trans-Harlemites were active viewing the crowd on the streets today. It is noteworthy the amount of interest displayed in the occasion beyond that manifested in the parades and the features of the festivities. They appear to enter into the real spirit of the occasion. It blossoms from window sills and cornices, Girls are seen everywhere with time American Garden ways and the latter is far outnumbered by the American the city, the latter is far outnumbered by the American the city the latter is far outnumbered by the American the Girls are seen everywhere with tiny American flags pinned to their dresses, or else displaying the medals and other souvenirs which are being drape with impartiality portraits of Columbus, one young lady was noticed walking down

Broadway this morning with her hat tastefully decorated with the national colors. She attracted some attention, naturally, but every one appreciated her enthusiasm, and only complimentary comments were heard as she passed. The men were not to be outdone by the fair sex, and the lapels of their coats were decorated with silk ribbons and medals. THE "FAKIR" ON HAND.

Mothers anxious to see their children march in the column wended their way to Madison Square.

AT POLITICAL HEADQUARTERS. Republican national headquarters at No. 518 5th avenue were packed with politicians headed by Chairman Carter, who evinced a lively in terest in the march of the children. Mr. Oliver had charge of the arrangen at democratic headquarters and was kept busy obtaining choice nooks in the windows for prom-inent Clevelandites.

Both Gov. Flower and Senator Hill are in town for the celebration, the governor at the Windsor and the Senator at the Normandie. Both secured vantage points from which to see the parades.

"A brighter collection of children I never saw in my life," remarked H. M. Kinsley as he viewed the line from his hotel—the Hollman House. The American flags carried by the children gave a very picturesque appearance to the procession. Superintendent Byrnes' warning to crooks to keep out of the city during the present week has been pretty generally obeyed by the higher class crooks, but he was keeping a watchful eye out today just the same. A person familiar with the police and same. A person familiar with the police and detective force could hardly walk a block along the line of march without running across a central station or ward detective. All of them were LITTLE BOOM AT THE HOTELS.

A party applied for accommodations and, being told that everything was full, said, in desperation, "Cannot you place me somewhere?" Hickey reflected for a moment, then he remarked: "We have some hammocks on the roof."

on the roof."

"I'll take one," cried the homeless man.

The clerk gravely consulted with the head bellman and that individual was dispatched on an errand. Then he returned and whispered to the clerk. "I am very sorry," remarked Hickey, in his most sympathetic tones, "but Tom here informs me that last hammock has just blown away."

And with an exclamation of despair the would-be guest rushed away.

Although, of course, visitors to the city have first sought accommodations in the hotels along the line of march the other houses have come for their share of the business. The hotels, the their share of the business. in for their share of the business. The hotels from the Astor House, down town, to the Ham filton, at 125th street, are filled with out-of-to October is probably the worst month in which a big demonstration could be held. The town is always crowded then with out-of-town buyers and the hotel keepers have their hands full looking after them, but the extra trade attracted by the exposition has been well cared for, and although there has necessarily been more or less crowding the average guest has nothing but words of praise for the way he is being treated.

"OLD GLORY" WAVES EVERYWHERE. The stars and stripes rule the town. Never before have more, or perhaps as many, American flags fluttered in the breeze on Manhattan Island as today. Flags of every nation are to be seen, but the beautiful banner of the Union outnumbers all others a thousand to one. Flags of all sizes and shapes, of cotton, wool and silk, bunting and paper muslin, with forty-four stars and forty-two stars and some old ones with only thirty-six stars, are before one's eyes on every hand.

Broadway, 5th avenue, 14th and 23d streets and the squares display the American flag nu-merously, but the number there is but a trifle compared with the bundreds of thousands that are to be seen on the east and west sides. There seems to be no tenement too squalid and poor to have its emblem of freedom, and some of them have hundreds. Even in the foreign quarter in Payard, Hester, Stanton and Mott streets the flag makes bright dingy walls. The residents seem to have had but one idea in decoration, and that was to use the American flag. Of course, here and there are found the red and vellow harver of Spain and the green red and yellow banner of Spain and the green red and white of Italy, but even in Mulberry street, the most thickly settled Italian quarter in the city, drape with impartiality portraits of Columbus, Washington'and even Harrison and Cleveland. On the principal thoroughfares, especially along 5th avenue, the Spanish and Italian flags have very properly-been mingled with the tri-color of America, but it was only in these quarters that the appropriateness of this union was appreciated. Elsewhere "old glory" was suffi-cient to indicate the patriotism and enthusiasm
